	approach being implemented. Looks like A&S will be the pilot program and set up this summer. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Discovery Days – great credit to Bernadette Montoya. Handout. Pilot program attempt to take some of the most at risk students to provide a boot camp that will help them be more successful. - Admission Requirements Draft / Concept paper handed out to consider. Provost met with LCPS and they are concerned with having enough teachers to meet these types of class loads. CO Ed also talking to other school districts. Challenge is that such courses are simply not available to all students. President mentioned the possibility that these types of course be taught on line. Angela asked if we might consider offering a free course math boot camp to help folks that need to get in. Process is to send the signal that we are a changing requirement. President wants the idea to be considered and allow all appropriate parties to weigh in. Faculty Senate will take a look at this and be part of the conversation. Need to meet with a variety of stakeholders. Anticipate this going to the President late spring - Interventions being discussed. Georgia State work revealed that a small amount of intervention can make a significant impact – especially in timely financial interventions to help students in need. - Lottery Scholarship being discussed - ICT Charges being discussed – an issue among the departments 	Dan Howard / Bernadette Montoya Dan Howard	Develop metrics to gauge success of Discovery Days Look into availability and feasibility of on line courses to help students meet potential new entrance requirements	As possible As possible

VI. Review of Agenda and Schedule of Events for the December Regents Meeting	Ben reviewed the agenda and schedule for the December Regents meeting. We will add an update presentation on Academic Affairs by the Provost to each meeting. We are also adding recurring reports from the three regents committees to each agenda.	Ben Woods	Add Recurring Updates to each meeting from the Provost and each of the regents committees	Done
VII. Discussion of FY 15 HED Funding recommendations	Angela reviewed her analysis of the recently released FY 15 HED Budget recommendations with the group. The well crafted analysis was done over the weekend and summarized the results of the HED formula machinations. The analysis once again pointed out several deficiencies that exist within the current HED formula. These have been known since the inception of this formula and remain as major concerns on the part of CUP and NMSU. Ricardo mentioned that the information delivered shows results but does not document the manner in which those results were generated. The lack of that background information hampers the ability of an institution to respond appropriately. Angela will present the information as part of the upcoming Employee Council forum.
VIII. Discussion of request to meet on program in Intelligence Analysis	This item was pulled due to shortage of time
IX. Discussion of Next UEC Meeting Date	The next UEC meeting will occur on December 9, 2013
X. Upcoming University Events	Handouts were provided detailing some of the upcoming university events and dates that are of importance.	Ben Woods	Send out corrected handouts	This week
